The primary goal of the Family Support Program is to assist individuals and families with short-term case management and referrals for service.

Family support is provided to address problems and issues so that individuals and families can maintain housing benefits.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Q: How do I access the program?

A: Call the Family Support Specialist, Amy Wagner, at the main LHA Office at 402-434-5527.

Q: How can the program help me?

A: The goal of this program is to help participants have an improved quality of life. This is done by helping educate individuals on resources available and assisting participants in accessing them.

Q: What can the Family Support Specialist do for me?

A: Advocate, educate and provide support while addressing current issues which may directly or indirectly influence housing and quality of life concerns.

Q: How long can I be involved in the program.

A: There is no set length of time involvement. However, the program is designed to be short-term and to address immediate needs and concerns that arise.

Q: How does it work?

A: An individual or family can access the program two ways. First, s/he can be referred to the program. These referrals usually come from LHA staff, community agencies, friends or family members. Or second, s/he can refer her/himself. Once the referral is made, the Family Support Specialist contacts the family and meets with them. During this meeting, areas that need to be addressed are identified and basic referrals are made. In some cases, the Family Support Specialist will meet with the family several times and assist with referral follow-up.
